General

Optional unit division is NOT available by section or section equivalent. Optional unit division is available based on FSA farm number and any other method specified in the Basic Provisions or Crop Provisions except section or section equivalent. To be eligible for the available methods of optional unit division, you must meet all applicable requirements.

Contact your agent regarding possible premium discounts, options, and/or additional coverage that may be available.

Corn planted on acreage following a crop that has been prevented from being planted will not be considered a cover crop and will be considered a crop planted for harvest.

Date

In lieu of the definition of late planting period in section 1 of the Basic Provisions, please refer to the End Of Late Planting Period Date.

Any acreage designated as unrated on the actuarial map will be insurable only by written agreement. Contact your crop insurance agent by the sales closing date to determine eligibility requirements.

Insurance Availability

Insurance shall attach to a crop following a cover crop when the cover crop meets the definition provided in the Basic Provisions, was planted within the last 12 months, and is managed and terminated according to NRCS Cover Crop Termination Guidelines. The Guidelines include information on cover crops and crop insurance, Good Farming Practices for cover crops, and termination information and exceptions, which can be found at <https://www.rma.usda.gov/en/Topics/Cover-Crops>.

In addition to Section 35 of the Basic Provisions, if you elect to obtain a Farm Service Agency Graze-Out Payment for acres of this crop grazed by livestock and not otherwise harvested, you are not eligible for an indemnity.

Vomiting and diarrhea are common symptoms of aflatoxin poisoning in humans and animals. Aflatoxin is a potent liver carcinogen and can cause liver failure. It is produced by certain molds, including Aspergillus and Fusarium, which can grow on crops like oats. Aflatoxin is a highly toxic substance and can cause severe health problems. It is important to avoid consuming contaminated crops and to take steps to prevent mold growth on crops. Aflatoxin is a highly toxic substance and can cause severe health problems. It is important to avoid consuming contaminated crops and to take steps to prevent mold growth on crops.

For production that contains substances or conditions determined to be injurious to human or animal health, when applicable, adjustments will be made for levels of substances or conditions in excess of the amount allowed by the lower of the following:
