listed in priority order:

1. Special Provisions, separate from this statement, which authorizes the use of the Contract Price Addendum (CPA);
2. Crop Provisions; or
3. CPA.

When the contract price code is ~~yes~~ ☒ on the Prices tab for the crop, type, and practice:

1. If the Crop Provisions or Special Provisions provide the contract price authority, your price will be determined in accordance with the Crop Provisions or Special Provisions. If neither the Crop Provisions or Special Provisions provide contract price authority, your price will be determined in accordance with the CPA; and
2. The Crop Provisions or Special Provisions may only provide contract price authority for specific types or practices. When this occurs, the CPA may be used to determine a contract price for other types or practices where contract price authority is not provided through the Crop Provisions or these Special Provisions.

Insurance Availability

Winter coverage option adequate stand eligibility/minimum required: For established stands, 75 percent or more of ground cover is mint.

Rotation requirements: Insurance will not attach to any new mint acreage on which mint has been grown in any of the three (3) preceding crop years.

Crop provisions adequate stand eligibility/minimum required: Insurance will not attach to any acreage with less than 1.5 living mint plants per square foot for all types and practices.

Age Limitation: Insurance will not attach to any mint acreage of peppermint the ninth and succeeding crop years after the crop year of planting, unless a written agreement request is initiated by you prior to insurance attaching. Notwithstanding this age limitation condition, insurance will not continue to a subsequent crop year on any acreage following the discovery of verticillium wilt. The production guarantee for such acreage (basic versus winter coverage option) will be determined according to when the discovery was made.

The farming practice known as "reconditioning mint" is an insurable practice on an established stand and will not be considered a new mint planting.
