Insurance Availability

Insurance shall attach to a crop following a cover crop when the cover crop meets the definition provided in the Basic Provisions, was planted within the last 12 months, and is managed and terminated according to NRCS Cover Crop Termination Guidelines. The Guidelines include information on cover crops and crop insurance, Good Farming Practices for cover crops, and termination information and exceptions, which can be found at <https://www.rma.usda.gov/en/Topics/Cover-Crops>.

In addition to Section 35 of the Basic Provisions, if you elect to obtain a Farm Service Agency Graze-Out Payment for acres of this crop grazed by livestock and not otherwise harvested, you are not eligible for an indemnity.

If you elect to delay measurement of farm stored production as provided in the Basic Provisions, all samples of farm stored production used to determine insurable quality deficiencies must be obtained in accordance with this Quality Adjustment Statement, but not later than 60 days after the EOIP, otherwise such production will not be eligible for payment under the program.

The following procedures apply to the determination of quality deficiencies for farm stored production:

(a) The producer or owner of the farm stored production shall select a representative sample of the production for testing. The sample shall be selected in accordance with the following requirements:

(i) The sample shall be selected from the production at the time of harvest or at the time of storage, whichever is later.

(ii) The sample shall be selected from the production in a manner that ensures that it is representative of the entire production.

(iii) The sample shall be selected from the production in a manner that ensures that it is free from contamination by other sources.

(iv) The sample shall be selected from the production in a manner that ensures that it is free from damage caused by pests or other factors.

(v) The sample shall be selected from the production in a manner that ensures that it is free from adulteration.

(vi) The sample shall be selected from the production in a manner that ensures that it is free from any other factor that may affect its quality.

(b) The sample shall be tested by a qualified laboratory. The results of the test shall be used to determine the quality of the production.

(c) If the results of the test indicate that the production does not meet the required quality standards, the producer or owner shall be responsible for the cost of reworking the production to meet the standards.

(d) If the results of the test indicate that the production meets the required quality standards, the producer or owner shall be eligible for payment under the program.

(e) The producer or owner shall be responsible for the cost of transporting the sample to the laboratory and for the cost of reworking the production if necessary.

(f) The producer or owner shall be responsible for the cost of any other expenses incurred in connection with the determination of quality deficiencies.

(g) The producer or owner shall be responsible for the cost of any other expenses incurred in connection with the determination of quality deficiencies.

(h) The producer or owner shall be responsible for the cost of any other expenses incurred in connection with the determination of quality deficiencies.
