General

Optional unit division is NOT available by section or section equivalent. Optional unit division is available based on Farm Serial Number (FSN) and any other method specified in the Basic Provisions or Crop Provisions except section or section equivalent. To be eligible for the available methods of optional unit division, you must meet all applicable requirements.

Contact your agent regarding possible premium discounts, options, and/or additional coverage that may be available.

Corn planted on acreage following a crop that has been prevented from being planted will not be considered a cover crop and will be considered a crop planted for harvest.

Date

In lieu of the definition of late planting period in section 1 of the Basic Provisions, please refer to the End Of Late Planting Period Date.

Special Provisions 2026 and Succeeding Crop Years

Year: 2026	Commodity: Wheat (0011)	Upland Cotton

Insurance Availability

Insurance shall attach to a crop following a cover crop when the cover crop meets the definition provided in the Basic Provisions, was planted within the last 12 months, and is managed and terminated according to NRCS Cover Crop Termination Guidelines. The Guidelines include information on cover crops and crop insurance, Good Farming Practices for cover crops, and termination information and exceptions, which can be found at <https://www.rma.usda.gov/en/Topics/Cover-Crops>.

In addition to Section 35 of the Basic Provisions, if you elect to obtain a Farm Service Agency Graze-Out Payment for acres of this crop grazed by livestock and not otherwise harvested, you are not eligible for an indemnity.

Quality

GENERAL STATEMENTS:

For the purpose of this section, the term "quality" means the quality of the crop as determined by the quality adjustment factors.

For the purpose of this section, the term "quality adjustment factors" means the factors that are used to determine the quality of the crop. The quality adjustment factors are considered in determining production to count.

For the purpose of this section, the term "net production to count" means the production to count after the quality adjustment factors are applied. The net production to count is determined by subtracting the quality adjustment factors from the production to count.

For the purpose of this section, the term "qualifying for quality adjustment" means the production that is eligible for quality adjustment. The production that is qualifying for quality adjustment is determined by the quality adjustment factors.

For the purpose of this section, the term "extension of time to harvest" means the period of time that is granted to the producer to harvest the crop. The extension of time to harvest is granted by the AIP.

For the purpose of this section, the term "production qualifying under section B or C" means the production that is eligible for quality adjustment under section B or C. The production that is qualifying under section B or C is determined by the quality adjustment factors.

For the purpose of this section, the term "production qualifying under Sections B or C" means the production that is eligible for quality adjustment under Sections B or C. The production that is qualifying under Sections B or C is determined by the quality adjustment factors.

For the purpose of this section, the term "production qualifying for quality adjustment" means the production that is eligible for quality adjustment. The production that is qualifying for quality adjustment is determined by the quality adjustment factors.
